Both the newly elected Noble Grand, Ed. C. Wolter and P. G. Jopson, expressed their appreciation of being placed at the head of their respective lodges.

This was the most enjoyable occasion that has taken place for many terms.

At the annual session of the Grand Lodge of the B. P. O. E. in Baltimore there was gathered this week one of the largest crowds of Elks ever known. Advances as to what the session accomplished have brought no surprises. The selection of Edward Righter of New Orleans to be grand exalted ruler was rather expected and Boston won the next meeting. The resolution which declares "that the Elks are ready, willing and prepared to do their duty to family and to country and go to the front in defense of American honor" was timely and appropriate and was in line with the principles of Elkdom, which is first and fundamentally an American order, with membership restricted to American citizens and with the nation's banner ever decorating its altars.

Foresters, members of Court Lunaillo, A. O. F., will celebrate the 37th anniversary of the establishment of the court at a banquet to be held tomorrow night in the Young Hotel cafe, sixth floor.

Court Lunaillo is the oldest lodge of the Ancient Order of Foresters west of the Rocky mountains and though older than sister lodges on the coast is still growing every day. The program tomorrow night will be started with the grand march of Foresters down Fort street to the Young at 7 o'clock, the band to lead the procession.

Col. John W. Short is the head of the court and the committee in charge of the celebration is Messrs. Van Gieson, Ordenstein and Trask.

Buffalo, N. Y., was alive with color, resounding with music of bands and crowded with people this week, the occasion being the great gathering of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. It is estimated that the parade held Wednesday brought 8000 Shriners into line. Some remarkably fine drill work was shown.

At a postponed meeting of William McKinley Lodge, K. P., held Tuesday evening, several candidates for the first degree were received.

With its newly installed officers in the chairs, Court Camoes, A. O. F., held a regular business session Tuesday evening.

Hawaiian Tribe No. 1, Order of Red Men, is now working under new officers. The old officers stepped aside and the new officers were installed Tuesday evening.

Harmony Chapter No. 2, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a stated session this evening at 7:30.
